

"Civics 101" - Cycle 4 7 - Thoughts from Final Presentations - 12/1/20

I think about my mental health everyday, multiple times! Good Job Christelle!

I'll be honest--I'm loving these diverse data visuals

Exactly Adrian! People do not believe word of mouth about the police. We do need data!

Man Mental Health is so crucial, and Corey as well as anyone else discussing Police defunding is significant just to survive

REPARATIONS!!

Sherronda! It truly does not make sense that white people own more homes with the same education. How did they do that?

Cost Revenue can be used as leverage to make critical changes to the Police Funding mechanism, and they need to be evaluated more and more stringently than the children with that horrible START testing initiative.

Educate the people how to use the wealth in America. Pivotal point, Sherronda!

I love 'the trust' for community health care!

That was such a great idea Tony! I want to hear more about this!

Corey seemed so passionate about his issue! I loved your solution!

Anthony had some amazing points!

Fact check- does whites get killed as blacks?

did someone say they were killed just as much? or that they are also killed?

"Civics 101" - Cycle 47 - Thoughts from Final Presentations

A lot of Black Americans do not know how prevalent slavery in Africa also was and how Africans fought for the freedom of their people....but we couldn't win...they had guns...we had spears and bows and arrows it seems the only way to change your world is to give more than was taken from you...

A lot of these issues share education as part of the solution - we each must commit to continually learning and evolving (ourselves and others) in order to change the problems we are discussing.

so reparations have nothing to do with slavery, but what has happened up thru today to the black community!

Excellent solution Rico!

we all have individual sticking points to our issues, and see small details others miss that affect us deeply.

100% Agree ^^

^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^^

enslavement created the structure that caused all of these, though. We don't need to divorce slavery from reparations--we just need to understand that emancipation did not solve previous problems, and new ones were created.

No taxes For 100 years!!

We MUST invest in redlined areas in our communities - we cannot allow the system to devalue our neighborhoods and then take them back later through "gentrification" when it's convenient.

political manipulation needs to be fought at every turn

Man Dushawn you killed it !
We must continue to fight the power!!!!

"Civics 101" - Cycle 47 - Thoughts from Final Presentations

Great article selection Jessica -We must stand up for each other - you can be a victim of discrimination but still be complicit in supporting it by not saying anything or choosing to ignore it.

Public services are critical and needed - there is no such thing as no one who has needed help, only those who don't acknowledge when they do get it.

Microaggression is everywhere, stereotype is an issue. Not only Blacks face these issue.